To whom it may concern:

Tony (Santos) Cerritos worked for ESCO Corporation for twelve years. Santos worked for me during the last two and a half years of his employment in the pattern storage department. Prior to this he worked as an "A" class molder, our highest molding class. The pattern storage department requires extensive knowledge on how to assemble complex molds and Santos performed the daily deliveries with precision. When we lost the leadership in the department, Santos filled in as interim team lead. He was highly considered for the team lead role but pass by due to another with more seniority.

Santos is quick to learn and diligent in his work ethic. He was able to work remotely with daily responsibility and project work. I appreciated his reliability since he didn't miss deliveries or due dates. Santos is highly motivated, organized, and capable of self-direction.

Santos was a valuable employee and would be a great addition to any company that hires him.

If you would like more information about Santos, you can call or email at the information below.

Sincerely,
